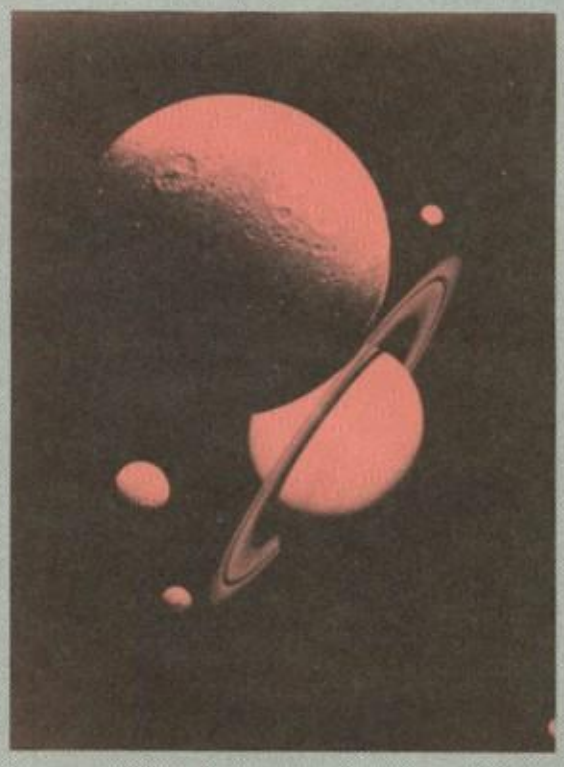
CURRENT EVENTS

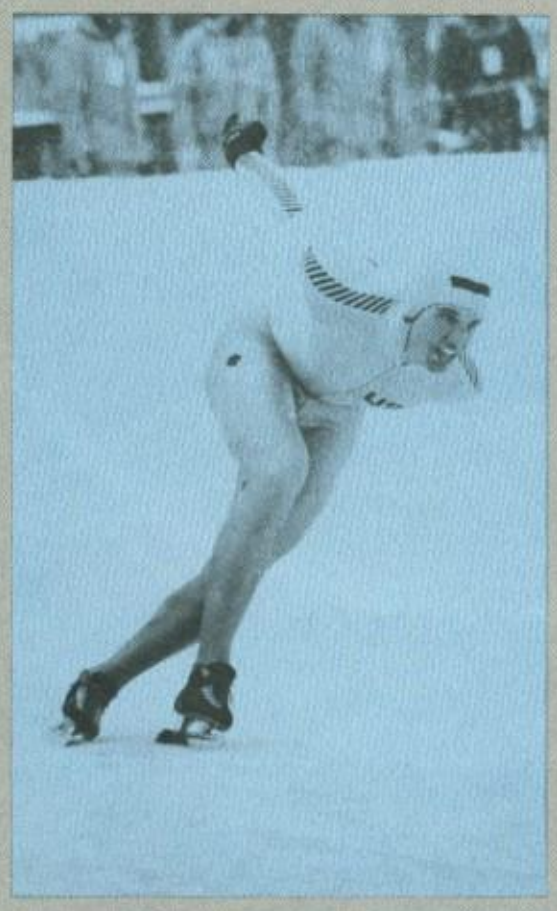


CLOSE-UP OF SATURN - An unmanned spacecraft named Voyager I sailed past Saturn, sending us photos of a previously unknown planet.

LANDSLIDE VICTORY - After 12 years of trying, Ronald Reagan harnessed a time-for-change conservatism and swept Jimmy Carter out of the White House with a surprise landslide at the polls.

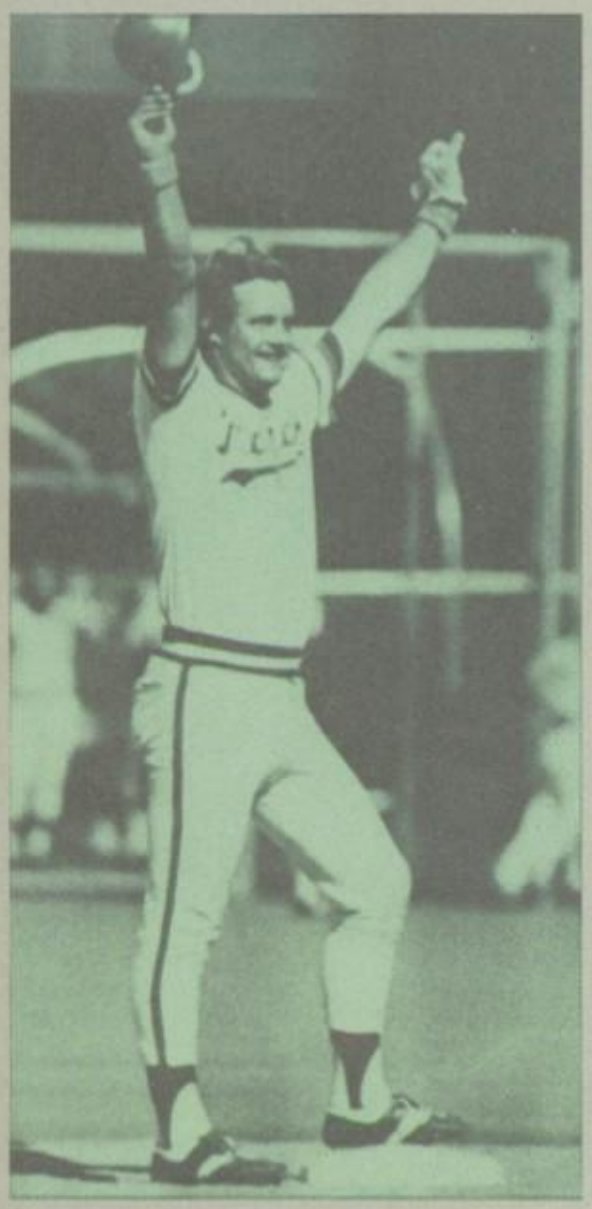
Wide World Photos

LAS VEGAS CASINO BURNS - The second worst hotel fire in U.S. history killed 84 and injured 500 at the MGM Grand Hotel. The fire alerted people to the fact old fire safety controls may not be keeping pace with fire control problems in high-rise buildings.



GOLD MEDALIST - At the Winter Olympics in New York, Eric Heiden captured five gold medals in an unprecedented sweep of the men's speed skating events.

DURANTE DIES - Jimmy Durante parlayed his big nose and sunny affability into a 60-year career spanning entertainment all the way from vaudeville to television. He was 86.

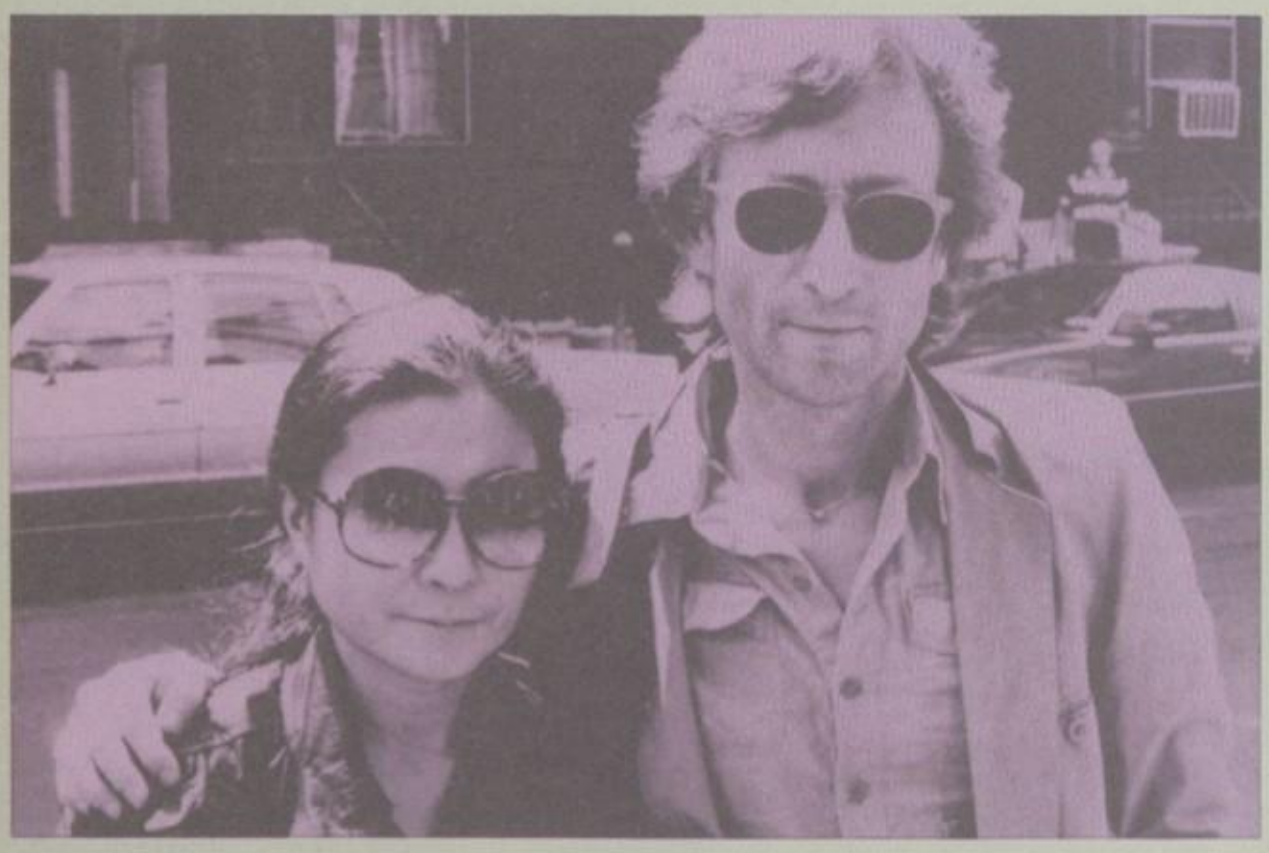


BASEBALL'S TOP HITTER - Kansas City Royals third baseman, George Brett, wrapped up the season with a phenomenal batting average just short of .400 and was voted the A.L.'s most valuable player. His team lost the World Series to the Philadelphia Phillies.

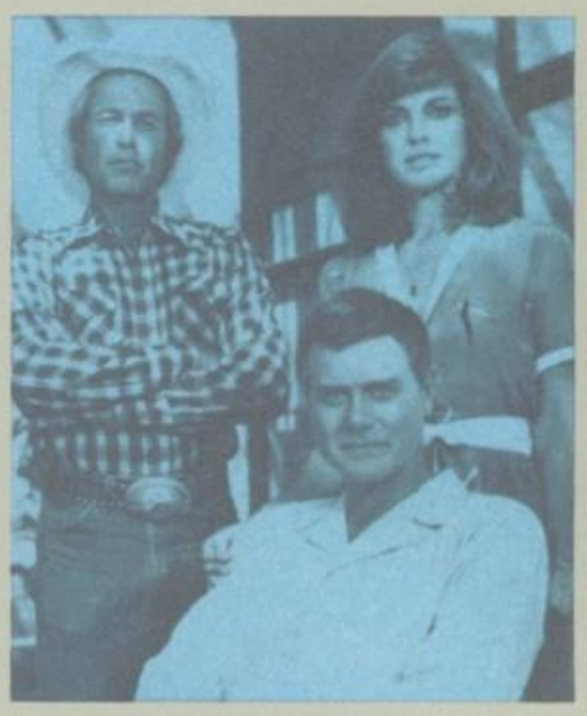
BRUSH FIRES - A wall of fire headed toward the campus of California at San Bernadino — one of several brush fires that raced through Southern California, destroying over 30,000 acres and over 100 homes.

IRAN, IRAQ DECLARE WAR - Iran became sufficiently weakened by worldwide repercussions over the seizure of the American Embassy and became a feasible target for neighboring Iraq.

BAILING-OUT CHRYSLER - President Carter shook hands with Chrysler Chairman Lee Iaccocca in May after signing a $1.5 billion federal loan to keep the nation's third largest auto-maker afloat. When their 1981 line didn't sell as predicted, the corporation started looking for further federal generosity.



GIVE PEACE A CHANCE - The hopes of a generation were summed up in John Lennon's poetic lyrics. The former Beatle was shot and killed on the steps of his New York apartment, causing a worldwide outpouring of grief.



WHO SHOT J.R.? - Over 83 million Americans turned on their TV's one Friday night in November to find out who shot J.R. Ewing, the dastardly double-dealer of CBS' "Dallas." The episode had the highest ratings in television history.

HI! My name is Eager, otherwise known as 'Big E.' I am here and throughout the annual to help you, the reader, understand more about the happenings within CHS.

Students discovered many changes had taken place when they returned September 2, 1980. New teachers were to be found almost everywhere along with a new high school principal, Mr. Edward Blumhoefer.

Amazement could be the word to describe the jr. and sr. high students' reactions to the class schedules. Some had classes they had not signed up for, while others found the new, and well-enforced,rules almost unbearable. All high school students were required to take six classes instead of five, which they had a year before.

Hall monitors were installed so students could no longer RACE to the lunchroom. Of the 27 minutes for lunch, some hungry eaters stood in line for around fifteen minutes, then, in the little time remaining, the eating routine of "chowing down" was put into action.

School enrollment declined for the high school from 213 to 204, but the elementary rose 12, from 236 to 248.

Please bear along with me throughout the annual because I might not even totally understand the happenings all the time, but I am sure they will be enjoyable for all.

Seniors Attempt Togetherness

Thirty-five students began their last year together in September. After Dan Leighton left the class diminished to thirty-four.

Mike Krenik attempted to run class meetings with authority as class president. Other officers included Michelle Fahning, vice-president; Caroline Smith, secretary; Jackie McCabe, treasurer; and Jim Johnson and Tim McCabe student council representatives. Mrs. Geraldine Davis, advisor, often settled the class down and ran the meetings herself.

The class was tired of paying money, so class dues were not required. The class treasury had enough money left over from prom to pay for graduation expenses. The boys, trying to be smart, often wanted to out-do the girls on class votes. But the girls had a sneaky scheme of their own to get the "good-looking" announcements.

Some of the senior girls tried to unite during the year. Most wore togas on "Toga Day," and some were even seen on Halloween as "Kooky Spooks." They got together and exchanged gifts at a Christmas party held at the Holiday House. The class was limited on "togetherness" because of how many held jobs outside of school, but most managed to wear ties on "Class Day" during Snow Week.

Because of changed class schedules, few seniors took the traditional trips to Landkamers and Lakewood Cemetery during the death unit.

The boys failed to repeat last year's win at class tournaments, and lost to the juniors by one point. The girls had just enough players for the start of the first game, and were beaten by the sophomores.

As the year progressed, more and more seniors visited area colleges and vocational schools trying to decide their futures after May 28, 1981.

The senior girls managed to get away and take one last trip together to Wisconsin after graduation.

Juniors Prepare For Seniority

The juniors started the school year with 35 class members only to see it wane to 34 when Don Leighton left. A couple of weeks later they were back to 35 strong when new student Debbie Quick joined them.

Advanced biology, consisting of four students, found themselves "interested" in dissecting frogs, cats, crayfish, clams, and fetal pigs..

Finding themselves short of funds for prom, the juniors decided to sell acrylics after Christmas time to raise the money. This project netted them about $650. During prom time, they found themselves busily working to get everything just right.

The junior boys won their first class tournament with a one point decision over the seniors. The girls fell to a strong freshmen team in first round action.

Class officers were Melanie Schmidt, president; Eddy Sexe, vice-president; Dawn Drumm, secretary; Lana Richter, treasurer; and Tammy Vosbeek and Mike Klein served as student council representatives. Mrs. Cindy Kortuem and Mr. Steve Nordsiden were class advisors.

Sophomores Experience Senior High

1. The Current Events game was a hit with the sophomores.
2. Elaine Quiram and Petie Davis, absent the day of class pictures, were stopped by one of the yearbook's ace photogs.

The sophomore class started the school year with a bang. They had the responsibility of planning the homecoming dance. This involved raising money, decorating the gym, and finding a band.

The school year also held many more exciting events for the sophomores. They had golf, archery, bowling, dancing, and aerobics in physical education class, woodworking in industrial arts, disecting worms, frogs, and pigs in biology and playing Current Events in history.

New class scheduling which combined the high school classes proved to be an enlightening experience. Each class is worth one-half to one credit. Before anyone is able to graduate they must have 15 credits. The sophomore year is when credit counting begins.

The class officers were: president, Chris McCabe; vice-president, Kim Cink; and secretary-treasurer, Julie Rohlfing. Student council representatives were Lisa Ponwith and Kim Skistad. Miss Julie Finke was the class advisor.

The class of 1984 began their freshmen year reminiscing with old friends and getting to know Joleen Pomerenke. The boys were busy slamming helmets with the varsity players and the girls spent time bumping balls with varsity volleyballers.

The class elected Dan Hallock president and Scott Corrow vice-president. When decisions had to be made and order kept Dan and Scott did their jobs. Lisa Hankins kept notes on class meetings. To handle the money, Laurie Wolf was put in charge. To speak on behalf for the freshmen class was Tim Ely, student council representative.

The freshmen were invited to attend the Homecoming dance, which was a big time. Their skit took first place.

Spring brought drivers education. A snow dance and some sockhops were left. The year came to an end. Saying good-byes and "see you soon" were once again exchanged.

1. Tina and Rosemary kept quite on Ribbon Day to save their ribbons.
2. Tim is not always at his best.

Eighth Grade Adds Five New Students

The class of '85 started with five new students: Darla Smidt, Cindy Quick, Natalie Johnson, Troy Martin, and Kris Hale.

They held a sock-hop after a basketball game to raise money for the class treasury.

The eighth graders had a frightening Valentine's surprise. On Friday the thirteenth, Suzy Blaschko almost choked to death while eating a sucker. Mr. Nathan Dahlman's use of the Heimlich maneuver, Suzy did not suffer from any fatal injuries.

The class officers were: President Kris Skistad, Vice-president Robby Kluntz, Secretary Dale Hallock, Treasurer Natalie Johnson, and Student Council Representatives Dave Cink and Marty O'Brien.

1. Missing from the class photo was Cindy Quick, Troy Martin, and Kris Hale.
2. These three eighth grade girls had the spirit of Class Day during Snow Week.

Seventh Grade Has Rough Time

Seventh graders seemed to have a rough time getting used to jr. high. They had new class schedules and "raced" through the halls during the three minutes between classes. Joe Pope felt the first quarter "was hard."

In science they learned to take notes. They enjoyed doing lab work and occasionally got to work with the equipment.

The class felt more outdoor sports should be added to the curriculum, like soccer. They also wished for better lunches.

The class officers included: Kraig Skistad, President; Erik Hendley, Vice-President; Jodi Lloyd, secretary; Joe Pope, treasurer; and Student Council Representatives were Molly Klein and Steve Ziebarth.

Sixth Grade Took Field Trips

Field trips "spiced up" the lives of Mr. Greg Lang's 39 sixth grade students. There was a trip to St. Paul which included tours of the State Capitol, the Science Museum, the Omni Theater, and Fort Snelling.

The LeSueur and Waseca County Extension Service sponsored an Outdoor Conservation Education Program at Sakatah State Park which the sixth-graders attended Both of these field trips are annual sixth grade events.

The students studied Minnesota history and each completed a project depicting his or her favorite part of the history of the state.

The scientific part of the sixth-graders' curriculum included such topics as: the universe, changing matter, microorganisms, conservation, and heredity.

Mr. Lang taught all of the sixth-grade students. He was aided by Mr. Melvin Goede until February when a new teacher, Mrs. Kay Wendelschafer, was hired to assist.

Fifth Grade Informed by Speakers

Mrs. Laura Reid and Mr. Robert Goetzke were kept busy this year with 41 rambunctious fifth grade students. Shanah Biehn, who is pictured in the class photograph, left Cleveland last fall.

Several interesting activities occupied the students' time. Three guest speakers gave their views on a variety of topics: Mrs. Les McCormack spoke about the heart, Mr. Ray Dembouski talked about shoplifting, and Mr. Kenneth Holmes exhibited his police car and spoke about law enforcement.

Many fifth graders participated in the elementary band. A stamp club was formed which also included several students.

When it came to school work, library book reports were given each Monday. Also, the fifth graders had a unit on drug abuse in health and a chemistry unit in science.

Among exciting events of the year was the Christmas party in Mrs. Reid's room with stereo music and dancing by Steve Dembouski.

The comedy movie performed by the class and the snow sculptures highlighted the year for Mr. Goetzke's students.

Third Grade Worked Hard

Over the 1980-81 school year the third grade, taught by Mrs. Vivian Pinney, learned the multiplication and division concepts and how to write longhand.

In the social studies department the students visited the sewer, water, fire, and city hall facilities of Cleveland.

The students also became artisans. In the celebration of Thanksgiving they made cornucopias. They later learned how to weave and work with clay.

1. Absent from class photo were Nicole Jewison, Andy Bush, and Mollie Schmidt.
2. The third graders "get into" the Halloween spirit.

Fourth Grade Contributes to Special Olympics

The 28 fourth graders taught by Mrs. Kay Rose had a full year. They studied multiplication, division, word usage, punctuation, weather, the North and South Poles, and they learned how to write Haiku poetry.

The students contributed to the Minnesota Special Olympics by sending them labels and seals of purchases off of Proctor and Gamble products.

The class "stamped out" Minnesota by covering a map of the state with cancelled stamps.

Second Grade Taught Basics Of Math

Mrs. Bev Olson and Mrs. Debora Hanson had 37 rambunctous second graders this year.

The class was surprised by an unexpected visitor while studying bones in health. They met Skelly Skeleton and examined him. At the end of the unit the class made a breakfast that consisted of French toast, orange juice, and milk.

Faces were designed at Halloween and the students' mothers came in and helped carve them.

Stained glass windows were made along with strange paper bugs for their "Winter in Bugland."

Math class consisted of learning to add and subtract, while weather, plants and animals were learned in science.

1. Tracy Lassonde, Kristina Gordon, Micheal Grames, and Chris Baker were absent the day pictures were taken.
2. Mrs. Olson's Kooky Spooks celebrate Halloween.

First Row: Vicki Matejcek, Kalli Ristau, Becky Hollerich, Shannon Simonett, Jill Peirce, Molly Meyer, Beth Meyer, Holly McKee, April Ballman, Katie Lawrence, Chad Ballman. First Grade Highlighted By Thank-you Note

The first grade was really eager to learn.

They studied about the ocean and tasted real seaweed. The students learned many new songs and how to count and spell.

The children were suprised when they received a thank you note from President Ronald Reagan for sending him birthday cards.

They made many arts and crafts. Wall hangings, wrapping paper and a teddy bear for Christmas, creatures out of junk and cards for ill classmates were some of their projects.

Jill and Jason Peirce, showed their puppies to the class.

At Thanksgiving they dressed up as Pilgrims and later as Indians to recite the poem "Pow Wow."

Activities outside of the classroom were also important. At recess the boys enjoyed being chased by the girls.

Kindergarten Begins New Life Style

1. Missing from odd-day pictures were Frank Kammerdiener and Justine Goettlicher.
2. Absent from even-day pictures was Danny Schmidt.

Mrs. Patricia Duenwald had two full classes this year with 42 kindergarten students. Odd-days brought 22 students to school, and that left 20 for even-days.

Working on letterbooks took up much of the kindergartners' time. Each student won an award each time a new letter was learned, and the numbers 0-10 were studied.

A field trip took them around town observing the changing colors of fall. Gingerbread men were made, a Red, White, and Blue parade was held, and pumpkins were carved at Halloween.

Each student received 6 "Smiling Faces" every day they came to school. The goal was to take 6 home at the end of the day, and if a student was bad, a smile was lost.

The classes also planted seeds, had an Easter Egg hunt, studied about the five senses, and graduated from kindergarten in spring.

The 1980 football season was one of ups and downs, including big victories such as the first homecoming win in 6 years over Nicollet 6-0 and heartbreak losses by one point or one touchdown.

A new electric scoreboard lit up the field on Friday nights and the Clippers made use of it in the first game by beating Mapleton 19-0. The team, however, did not light the scoreboard up often enough in the rest of their games as they fell to a 3-5 Valley Conference record and a 3-6 record overall.

Special plays and people in the right place at the right time played key roles in some of the Clipper wins. In two games, Nicollet and St. Clair, quarterback Andy Sexe teamed up with split-end Mike Krenik for two game-winning touchdown passes.

Most of the twelve seniors stated they would miss football more than any Cleveland sport.

Tim McCabe received All-Conference honors and was selected Most Valuable of the team. Pat Corrow and Bob Davis were chosen Most Improved players. Tim McCabe and Andy Sexe were this year's co-captains. Jeff Baker received the American Legion Award.

Spikers End Discouraging Season

A young varsity team, coached by Miss Nancy Hanson, proved that ability did not necessarily come with age.

The team consisted of only three returning letterwinners; two of which were seniors, the other, a junior. The rest of the team was made up of one senior, five juniors, and three sophomores. During mid-season, JoAnne Germscheid and Melanie Schmidt left the team, making the roster only ten members strong.

Shelly Koppelman and Carolynn Rohlfing were co-captains for the season.

The girls were well-skilled individually, but at times had difficulty "putting it together" as a team. The most memorable game was against non-conference Le Sueur; the girls trailed 11-1 in the third game, and came back to defeat the Giants, winning the match, two games to one.

The Clipperettes participated in a scrimmage at Le Center, and also in two invitational tournaments.

Trophies were awarded to Lana Richter and Caroline Smith, who were voted Most Valuable Players by the team. The All-Conference award went to Smith, and Lori Richter was chosen as the Most Improved Player by Coach Hanson. Richter (Lana) received the American Legion award.

The varsity spikers ended their season with a 3-5 Valley Conference record, and were 5-12 over-all. They lost the first round of Districts to Montgomery in two straight games.

A fifteen dollar fee came reluctantly out of each player's pocket, which proved to be worth it, as they received new uniforms this year.

Mrs. Karen Weros assisted Miss Hanson, and also coached the B-Squadders.

Brenda Siebert and Lori Zabel (both ninth graders) dressed for a few varsity games, including the District Tournament.

The Bombers sported a 2-6 conference record, and were 5-9 over-all.

Fall Jr. High Teams Enjoy Seasons

The 1980 C-squad volleyball team was very evenly matched with other schools in the district.

They did not always play full games as to make time for the A and B squad's games, said third year coach, Laura Reid.

Cindy Quick joined the team midway through the season, contributing much to the team comprised of 6 eighth graders and 5 seventh graders.

Theresa Rogers, Suzy Blaschko and Julie Hultgren also contributated greatly to the team's success.

"Because we did not always play the same number of games per match it is difficult to say the number of games won and lost," said Mrs. Reid of their won and loss record.

Front Row: A. Goodell, T. Rogers, C. Adams, J. Lloyd, K. Rohlfing, S. Schulte. Back Row: Coach Laura Reid, C. Quick, J. Hultgren, J. Erickson, S. Blaschko, D. Holicky.

At the end of Coach Jim Rusch's fifth season as Junior High football coach, his team had compiled a 4-3 record and had one of the best seasons since Rusch took over.

This year's team was very evenly balanced, led by running back James Baker and sure-handed receivers Thaine Swanson and David Cink.

When the team faced Morristown's ninth graders, Rusch thought Baker had broken his neck after a late hit. Cleveland went on to lose by a touchdown.

Change of Pace Proves Effective

Under the direction of a new advisor, Miss Julie Finke, the ten varsity and junior high football cheerleaders led a pep-filled season.

Because there were only three junior varsity games, there were no B-squad cheerleaders. Instead, tryouts were held allowing freshmen and sophomores to cheer with the juniors and seniors for varsity games, making the A-squad full of variety and spirit.

The girls purchased new uniforms, decorated lockers and presented principal Ed Blumhoefer with two pies in the face. On the day of the last varsity game they gave the football team a cake saying, "Good Luck Clippers." The cheerleaders also awarded Miss Finke with a corsage, thanking her for all her help and support.

The C-squad proudly supported the Junior High team throughout the season with a lot of pep. They held one pepfest in which coach Jim Rusch was sprayed with whipped cream and at the end of the season were invited to Mr. Rusch's party for the players.

Clippers Improved During Season

The 1980-81 season for the Cleveland High School Basketball team did not go as well as they would have liked it to. The Cagers had a 7-9 Valley Conference record, they were 8-10 overall, and they were 2-2 in district playoff games.

The Clippers almost always stayed close in the first half of their games but they always seemed to run out of gas in the second half.

The team took fourth in the districts by beating Fairbault School for the Deaf, 83-28, and Fairbault Bethlehem Academy 57-56. But they were finally beaten by Montgomery 47-22. In the game for third place the Clippers lost to Belle Plaine, 47-38 to end their season.

According to first-year varsity coach Greg Lang, the highlight of the season was in the second game of the districts. Down 15 points in the third quarter against Fairbault BA, the Clippers came back and won in overtime by one point. Coach Lang also said that the team "improved" over the whole season.

Those are a few of the things the team will remember in future years.

Cleveland's greatest asset was rebounding. The bombers grabbed a total of 578 while allowing their opponets only 278.

Cleveland posted a 39 per cent free throw persentage. They also outscored their opponets 839-700 for an average of 47 points per game.

This was Coach Michael Drazkowski's first year as basketball coach at Cleveland. Drazkowski said it was a very rewarding season, and he had "a good bunch of kids."

Clipperettes Experienced Trying Season

The 1980-81 girls basketball season turned out better than expected, even with a very young team. The conference record was 4-12 and the overall record was 4-14.

Jackie McCabe was the only girl who returned to the varsity squad from last year. Jackie commented, "I thought it was a fun season with all the different girls."

First-year coach Robert Goetzke commented, "They played well, especially the last three weeks."

The highlight of the season was at Amboy. Lori Zabel shot from 20 feet at the buzzer and Cleveland won it by 2 points. The final score was 60-58.

"Even though the season was 10 weeks long, all of the girls got along well," said Coach Goetzke. "I will be very optomistic next year because we lost only 2 girls, and there will be some good B-squad girls coming up."

"The girls worked real hard, but it was difficult with only seven girls to practice special plays. We couldn't even scrimmage," commented Coach Karen Weros, who led the B-squad team through a 4-14 season.

Numbers plagued the team throughout the season as Lori Zabel was pulled from the ranks to move to A-squad action. Others joining A-squad ball were Tracy Cox and Kim Skistad. C-squaders Julie Hultgren, Jane Anderson, Theresa Rogers and Judy Erickson filled in the gaps.

Tracy Cox, Kim Skistad and Lisa Rogers were high-point guards throughout the season, as Jill Bulie showed improvement in her jump shot.

Rosie Walechka hit the boards to be the leading rebounder, and Suzie Blaschko added good ball control. Nancy Erickson and Brenda Siebert added strong defense.

"The experience all of them gained will help a lot next year," added Coach Weros. Although the record reads 4-14, many games were lost by only a few points.

Coach Weros also commented on Mr. Nate Dahlman's help on teaching shooting skills, specific plays, outlet pass and rebounding.

Jr. High Dribblers Displayed Talent

The 1981 Cleveland Junior High girls basketball season was one of both joy and disapointment for head coach Connie Wenner.

Her seventh graders finished with a glorious 6-1 record. The team was led in both rebounds with 22 and in points with 113 by center Linda Zabel.

The eighth grade girls finished the season with a frustrating 1-7 overall record. Seventh grader Theresa Rogers was the eighth grader's point guard and was the team's play caller.

The team took third place at the Henderson tournament. "The third-place game was the most exciting moment of our season," stated Coach Wenner. The game went into overtime when Jane Anderson put in two points to take home the third-place trophy.

It was also an exciting season for first-year coach Nate Dahlman. Both the seventh and eighth graders finished with impressive records.

The seventh grade ended with a 5-2 overall record. Steve Ziebarth led the seventh grade in scoring with 78 points. In each of the two games, the team lost, they were only defeated by one point.

The eighth grade wrapped up their season with a 4-5 overall record. David Pope led the team in scoring until he broke his hand during practice early in the season. David Cink replaced him as the leading scorer with 62 points.

Cheerleaders Jump into Mixed-Up Season

The 1980-1981 winter basketball cheerleaders had an unusual year. Nearly halfway through the season the A-team boys cheerleaders quit. Then the B-squad was moved to A-squad and the C-squad was moved to B-squad. With the disadvantage of only two A-squad cheerleaders, the B-squad did a fine job helping them out.

The cheerleaders were occupied throughout the year making posters for local and district games. They also held weekly practices. The girls made special cakes for the end of the season for both the boys' and girls' teams. They also kept themselves busy with many pep-fests and decorating lockers with basketballs and megaphones.

The cheerleaders had the chance to cheer three games into districts which then ended their season.

Track: Small But Successful

The second year of existence for girls and boys track was a continuance of success from last year.

The boys' team was plagued by a shortage of members, but still gathered points in every meet. Doug Johnson and Dan Walechka won top points in distance races, Paul Ballman took top points in sprints and field events.

The guys were plagued by short numbers, the girls found themselves with adequate numbers to win a second place trophy in the Valley Conference meet at Blue Earth.

Although the oldest members of the girls' team were only sophomores, many opposing track teams were left standing in the dust. In fact, 2 sophomores, Kim Skistad and Ann Johnson, went on to Regions, and then Kim Participated in the State meet in long jump.

At Regions, Ann placed fifth in the 400 meter dash. Kim was second in the long jump, third

Baseball Finishes Season Strong

The Clipper baseball season got off to a slow start but finished with a 6-8 Valley Conference record, an even 8-8 season record and a 10-9 overall record, winning six of their last eight games.

Many of the players at the start of the season were somewhat confused as to what practice they were really attending, baseball or track, because they weee required to run constantly.

There were other additions this season. Mr. Nate Dahlman took over as head coach and was assisted by Mr. Wally Guptill. Both coaches gave signals and also aided the umpires in some games by helping call the game according to their own renditions. Also, a new batting cage was installed in the gym.

One of the highlights of the regular season came when the Clippers beat conference-leading Wellcome Memorial in the first game and almost won the second in extra innings.

After beating Le Center 9-6 in the first game of District 13A competition, the Clippers upset number one Jordan 2-1. The first semi-final game at Le Sueur was rained out graduation day. When the teams finally met, the Giants won 5-0

SCHOOL BOARD: Superintendent Delmar Klundt, Mrs. Nancy Krenik, Mr. Louis Walechka, Chairman Wayne Fahning, Mr. Ed Bisek, Mrs. Joan Johnson, Mr. Kenneth Koppelman.

Admistration and Staff Adjust to Changes

The 1980-81 school year began with a new "captain" aboard the ship, along with a few other new faces.

Mr. Edward Blumhoefer became the new high school principal, and brought many new ideas into the school, including some tighter rules, which were unpopular with many students.

Louis Walechka took Bill Hankins' spot on the School Board, and Wayne Fahning became the new Board Chairman.

Mrs. Sharri Ballman replaced Mrs. Marianne Odegard as elementary teachers' aide.

CHS's Special Education roster included Barb Budde, Speech Therapist, and Doug Peterson, SLBP Coordinator.

Dave Doft was the School Social Worker. School Psychologist was Dr. Robert Long.

1. BUSDRIVERS: Gary Haase, Audrey Gibbs, Mark Zimmerman, LeRoy McCollum, William Wendleschafer, Al Sohm.
2. Mr. Klundt makes sure Glenys is doing her job.
3. COOKS: Mrs. Mary Ann Heitner, Mrs. Gladys Grice, Mrs. Lorraine Struck.
4. Mrs. Ballman and Mrs. Holicky take time for some "R and R."
5. Mel Goede, elementary principal; Denise Struck, secretary, Edward Blumhoefer, high school principal, Miss Anna Harty and Mrs. Glenys Hultgren, secretaries.
6. JANITORS: Elmer Oldenkamp, Frank Hammer, Joe Herbert.
7. Lunchroom Superintendent Josephine Schmidt gets a break from her duties.

Front Row: Mrs. Patsy Rossow, mathematics; Mr. Larry Hohnstadt, mathematics, physics and computer. Back Row: Mr. Gary Kuphal, counselor, Miss Connie Wenner, SLBP; Mrs. Karen Weros, SLBP, Miss Karla Richardson, English and journalism; Miss Kathy Semple, choir and band, Mr. Michael Drazkowski, physical education and health; Mr. Glen O'Connor, history and social; Miss Nancy Hanson, physical education and health.

Faculty 1980-81: Fulfillment Attained

When school started in the fall many staff changes had been made. Six new faces appeared including Mr. Nathan Dahlman, Miss Constance Wenner, Mr. Michael Drazkowski, Miss Katherine Semple, Mr. Gary Kuphal, and Mrs. Patsy Rossow.

Mrs. Rossow resigned in December and was replaced by Miss Becky Krause. Mr. Tom Keller taught in the science department while CHS awaited the permanent arrival of Mr. Nathan Dahlman who was preparing for graduation at Gustavus Adolphus College.

Miss Finke suffered from walking pnuemonia and was absent from school throughout most of January. Substitutes were needed including familiar faces such as Mrs. Sally Geary, Mr. Greg Davis and Mr. Edward Sorenson. Another familiar face found in the halls of CHS was that of Mr. Wallace Guptill, student of Gustavus Adolphus College, who student taught under the direction of Mr. Hohnstadt.

One memorable moment for the new staff members was when they performed a skit at one of the cheerleaders' winter pepfests.

A few of the male faculty members participated in the Henderson tournament. They lost by one point in triple over time to Henderson. Mr. Dahlman, lead scorer with 38 points, commented, "The most fun part of the whole tournament was watching Mr. Hohnstadt get kicked out of the game."

Later on they also teamed up with the school board members in the Old Timers' Game. They played against the alumni who were ages 35 and over. The teams alternated sets of players every three minutes. Ed Bisek and Lauris Krenik demonstrated their mastery of a forgotten art, the set shot. Although the faculty lost, Mr. Hohnstadt felt that good community relations were established. He also stated, "Remember, for Old Timers the game was the same with running omitted." ...

The equipment and the teachers help students become more involved in their profession. Even after Model Office, a course at the center was vandalized, students kept on working even though there were inconveniences.

Teachers told of unforgettable moments in the 1980-81 school year: "The first time I've been to a sock hop since high school was when the eighth grade gave their sock hop," commented Mrs. Grabow.

"Meeting Gordy Howe for the first time was my greatest excitement!" exclaimed Mr. Rusch.

"I couldn't believe how many students asked me to 'add me to this class, drop me from that one,' on the first registration day," stated Mr. Kuphal.

"I really enjoyed working for CHS this year because I am working in the field I enjoy most," said Miss Finke with a smile.

Journalism Staff Stayed Strong to the Finish

The 1981 Expectations yearbook was put together by editors Michele Koppelman and Tim McCabe. The Journalism class put forth their efforts at times to present Cleveland Public School with a most memorable yearbook. In between deadlines for the yearbook, Carolynn Rohlfing edited the seven issues of the Argonaut. Finding news was not an easy task.

Advisor Ms. Karla Richardson kept the staff on their toes. She was always reminding the staff that "deadlines are due. There are things that have to be done."

Deadlines were not always met. Stories were often handed in a day late. However, as the year went on story writing improved.

There were a lot of tasks to be done. Dummying and finalling stories, proof reading stories before they went to press, and doing layouts were mind-grasping projects.

The photographers tried to get the staff the pictures that they needed. They worked hard trying to catch students off guard and getting students to cooperate and sit still while snapping their picture.

The journalism staff was proud to present CPS with the complishment of Expectations and the Argonaut.

Choir Voices Blended in Unison

Under the direction of Miss Katherine Semple, the Cleveland High School junior and senior choirs began practice in the fall. The soprano sections considerably out numbered the bass sections in each group.

With a lot of hard work and concentration they managed to put on a Christmas concert. Highlights included the singing of "Silent Night" in German, and, with the help of the Church of Christ, The Church of the Nativity and The Lutheran Church of Cleveland sang the famous "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handle's Messiah.

As spring arrived, they found themselves rehearsing for the Pop concert. The senior choir sang selections such as "The Tide is High," and Air Supply's "All Out of Love."The junior choir sang "9 to 5" and "Jessie."

Districts for large group and small were held March 31. Although the choir did not receive a star, many positive aspects were brought up about the choir.

The year rounded out with a spring concert.

Under the direction of new music instructor Miss Katherine Semple, the CHS band got off on the right foot and onto the football field this year for the first time in a long while. With a new teacher often came new ideas.

This was done in place of marching in the homecoming parade which was cancelled. Besides performing at football games, the band performed at other athletic events, graduation, districts, and concerts.

The band raised money this year by selling popcorn and popcorn containers. Although the money earned did not exactly come popping in, everyone had a good time.

Some band members were selected to the four-school district band. The band, consisting of members from Cleveland, Morristown, Montgomery, and Waterville, was directed by Mr. O'Neil Sanford, director of bands at the University of Minnesota.

Jr. band members, who were comprised of seventh and eighth graders, often helped the senior band to fill in for the times the band was thinner than it was to begin with.

C-Club Efforts Provide Visible Results

The Cleveland High School Letterpersons' Club (C-Club) was led into action by President Michele Koppelman. Assisting her with the responsibilities were Vice-President Mike Krenik, Secretary Jackie McCabe, and Treasurer Caroline Smith.

Two athletic banquets were hosted by the C-Club. At the fall banquet, football, volleyball and cheerleading award winners were honored. Dennis Raarup, head football coach at Gustavus Adolphus College, was the guest speaker. A spring banquet was also held, honoring the basketball, baseball, track, and winter cheerleading award winners.

At the last football and volleyball games and at the final boys' and girls' basketball games, the parents of players, all cheerleaders, and managers were honored. The C-Club sponsored a reception after the game on each parents' night.

Running the concession stand and cleaning it after each basketball game was a major responsibility taken on by a few faithful C-Club members. Candy and popcorn were purchased from the Hermel Company of Mankato. The expenses as well as the proceeds were divided between the club and the student council.

Even though the concession stand was badly in need of remodeling, lack of funds stifled that notion.

An outdoor concession wagon was financed and run during football season by the C-Club, student council, and music mothers jointly. This was a new endeavor which was well-accepted.

The C-Club took sole responsibility for keeping the locker room refrigerators stocked with pop for the athletes to purchase.

The nine high school banners were finished in the early spring and erected in the gymnasium. Each banner depicts one of the nine teams in the Valley Conference. They should certainly add to the spirit of the basketball seasons in the coming years.

Student Council Leads Eventful Year

Student Council tried hard to get school projects underway. Homecoming Week and Snow Week were planned with dress days, movies and a dance. The traditional class tournaments were held. The junior boys upset the senior boys and the freshmen won the girls' tournament.

Funds came in by way of the concession stand. It was hard to find workers sometimes as it seemed like the popcorn was always in short supply.

It was hard to find time for meetings and members did not always agree on everything which as to what days to plan and when to hold the Snow Dance.

Mr. Blumhoefer and Mrs. Davis advised the council which was chaired by Richard Rohlfing.

Council members wondered where a lot of the funds went until they learned that the Student Council paid for part of the football scoreboard and the athletic awards.

Speech Team Achieves Success

1. Lisa's nervousness shows as she realizes, "This is it!"
2. Kris expresses her inner feelings as she delivers her speech.

The Cleveland High School speech team had a year to top most. There was enthusiasm shown in the number of students involved in the invitational, district, and regional contests.

With the coming of the districts many members spoke exceptionally well as 9 out of 10 got into finals. Three advanced onto regions. These were Tracy Cox, Lisa Dembouski, and Michelle Fahning.

In regions, Lisa gave it all she had and achieved a finalist position.

Many will never forget the district contests, as food was the talk of the day. Potluck was on the agenda, and since many students were too nervous to eat during the contest, there were plenty of leftovers. With a hungry crew, and a long bus ride home the leftovers did not have a fighting chance, as they were demolished instantly upon leaving Waterville.

FHA Made It Happen

The junior FHA brought about the task of helping others as part of their 1980-81 activities and events.

As special projects throughout the year, many members participated in the fall and state conventions, with the state convention being held in Minneapolis. The theme for the convention was: "Make It Happen."

Christmas brought about good cheer to many of the Cleveland senior citizens, as the junior FHA members participated in caroling and cheerbox delivery. Chapter members also shared in a pizza supper.

The year was filled with helping others, and helping themselves through personal growth and involvement.

Elementary Students Enjoy Work & Play

1. Miss Kathy Semple directs her Jr. High Band during spring concert.

The 1980-81 elementary band consisted of fifth and sixth grade students. The band was under Miss Kathy Semple's direction.

A Christmas and spring concert were performed. The band played familiar Christmas carols, and "Rock It", March I", "skeleton In the Closet", and the "William Tell Overture", at the spring concert.

Miss Semple said she was pleased with the band and with continued practice they should become excellent musicians.

Cleveland Public School students were watched over well while crossing the street to the playground during noon hour and when fire drills occured.

Fifteen students from fifth and sixth grades helped students cross the street. The patrols also raised the United States flag every morning. They took great pride in doing their duty for CPS.

Mrs. Laura Reid was their advisor.

NHS Adds Four New Members

1. National Honor Society member Michael Krenik addresses the audience during graduation.
2. The four inductees nervously await to sign the register.

Four new members were inducted into the National Honor Society Friday, May 15. Seniors Jackie McCabe and Mike Walechka and juniors Lori Richter and Lana Richter became new members.

In order to become a member of NHS a B average must be maintained throughout the high school years.

Students involved in extra-curricular activities in school, church, and 4-H have maintained a B average, are co-operative, helpful, and kind are then eligible for NHS.

Thespians Induct Eleven

Eleven new members were inducted into the International Thespian Society in the spring.

They joined current members Brenda Derner, president; Richard Rohlfing, vice-president; Michelle Fahning, secretary/treasurer; and Pat Corrow.

The new members participated in pantomime, dance, drama, speech and music as part of their induction.

Brenda was named Best Thespian with four stars, Michelle had three stars, and Richard and Pat each had two stars.

Officers for the 1981-82 year are Lisa Ponwith, president and Anna White, secretary/treasurer.

1. Anna, Cheryl, and Pat prepare for the opening of fishing season with their pantomime.
2. The inductees recite the creed during the installation ceremony.
3. "I'll be your candle on the water," sing Kim and Katie.

Homecoming Spirit Regained

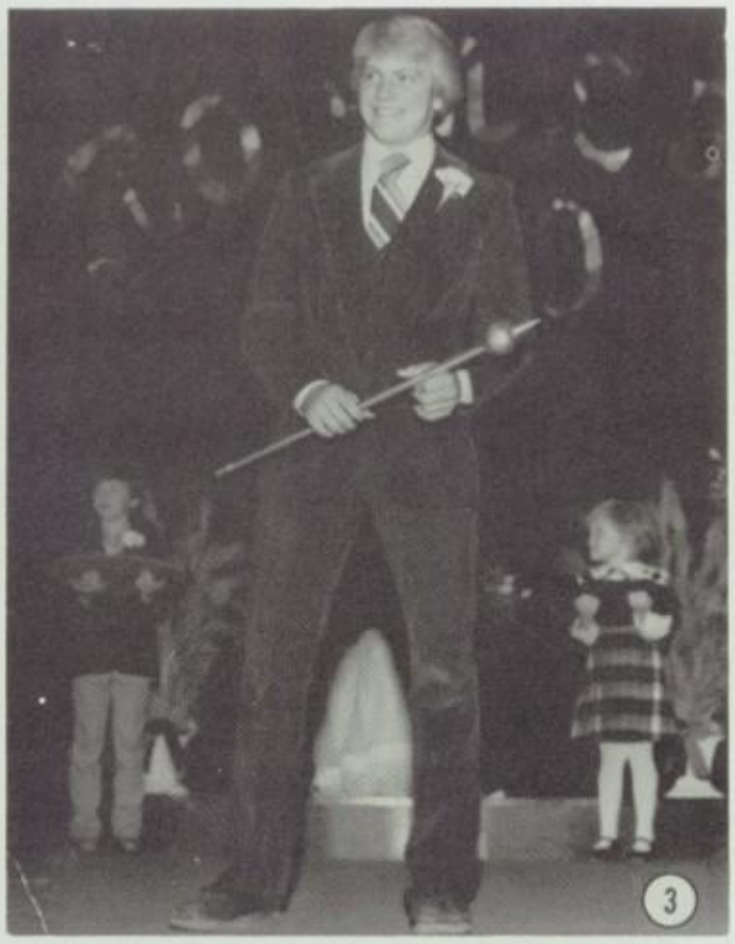
Homecoming 1980 will never be forgotten. The week of September 29 through October 3 began with "Dress up Day." The prize was won by Michelle Fahning. She had the nicest looking outfit. Monday night DeNell Krenik and Jim Johnson were chosen queen and king to reign over Cleveland High School. Following the coronation, the excitement moved from the gym to the tennis courts for the traditional bonfire and pep rally.

Tuesday the halls were filled with "Urban" cowboys and cowgirls as the student body participated in "Country Western Day."

Imagine what the student body looked like on Wednesday, "Twin Day." Miss Nancy Hanson and Mrs. Cindy Korteum dressed alike and walked off with the prize.

Thursday was "Toga Day." Mothers were wondering where the white sheets were the next day.

Friday (Homecoming Day) was Orange and Black - Button Day.



he skits and pepfest began at :45 p.m. This year was diffrent though, there was no paade.

The Homecoming football game ound Cleveland ahead. The lippers beat the Nicollet aiders 6-0. This was the first omecoming win for Cleveland in ive years. Everyone was proud.

Following the game the band Paragon" entertained everyone o the theme "This Moment in ime," thus ending Homecoming 980.

Betty Lou Learned her Lesson

Under the supervision of a new director, Miss Connie Wenner, this year's All-School Play, "She Fainted Again," by Donald Payton, turned out to be quite a success.

The plot of the play was about a 15-year-old girl, Betty Lou Maxwell, who found herself too old to do what she used to and too young to do what she would like to.

When she and her best friend Bernadine Smith came up with an idea to solve the problem, their plan backfired. It suddenly changed from a staged kidnapping to a real one. The end of the play found Betty Lou learning a lesson and taking her life one step at a time.

.Practices were usually held after school, but on some occasions they were from 7 to 8 a.m. However, on those occasions many of the students had trouble arriving on time. Never-the-less, practice went on.

Pat and Brenda, who had to practice falling several times, fortunately pulled through with no bumps or bruises.

the performance, the cast and crew decided to have a beach party and barbeque when summer arrived.

The performances given by the actors and actresses were good experiences for all those involved. There were some errors, but since it was a comedy, they were easily, and quite humorously, covered up.

The entire cast and crew enjoyed working together, making the 1981 All-School-Play a very memorable event.

1. "You're darn tootin'," explained Grandma.
2. Mike and Tim give the audience a real show.
3. The cast takes their final bow.
4. Betty Lou is snatched by Elmer and Muggsy.

Awards Honor Students

This year most students worked hard and gave a lot of effort to school work and school-related activities. Not everybody can be honored for their effort but their achievements should be noted.

Many students lettered in sports with special awards given to The Most Valuable Players, The Most Improved Players, and All Conference in football, volleyball, boys' and girls basketball, track, and baseball. Cheerleaders also received letters. Bars were given to those who had already lettered and the team's captains received stars.

Presidential patches and certificates were given to those who passed their physical fitness tests with 85% or above. Those reaching 80% to 85% received certificates.

Not all awards were sports related. Michelle Fahning won the Voice of Democracy contest with her speech "My Commitment to My Country." Fanning went on to place second at the district level.

Debbra Quick and Ed Sexe were named the American Legion's Girl's and Boy's State Representatives.

awards. Brenda Derner won the National Choral Award and Carolynn Rohlfing walked off with the John Philip Sousa plaque.

Some new awards were added this year.

The Bausch and Lomb Science award went to Norman Malecha.

Dollars for Scholars scholarships were awarded to Pat Sohm, Michele Koppelman and Tim McCabe.

Nine students were chosen to wear the "Gold Cords" of the honor graduate.

The American Legion presented two $500 scholarships. These went to Michelle Fahning and Mike Krenik.

2. Girls' Stater, Debbie Quick, leads the processional graduation night.
3. Pat Sohm accepts one of the three Dollars for Scholars scholarships awarded at graduation.
4. These girls, L. Wolfe, L. Hankins, L. Zable, K. Cink, B. Derner, C. Rohlfing, and M. Fahning starred at state competition with their musical performances.
5. Norman is congratulated by Mr.Hohnstadt on his achievement.

Prom : A Night To Remember

The 1981 Junior-Senior Prom was held Friday, May 8, at Cleveland High School. The theme was "It's Time For Me To Fly." The colors were pink, purple, and white. The colors were "vibrant" stated senior Carolynn Rohlfing. The couples danced to the music performed by the band Holdout. Sophomore Michael Davis was the master of ceremonies.

A lot of juniors arrived to help decorate the gym. Friday came and everything was ready. Everything but the fountain, because the one that was lined up had been sold. "The stage setting looked really boring without it," Ann Freeburg said. Brenda Krenik, Lori Thom, Ann Freeburg, and Mike Klein saved the day by going down to the St. Peter State Hospital to get another fountain.

The Grande Marche started at 8:15. Everyone was a little bit nervous and excited about it. Senior Michele Koppelman said, "I was really looking forward to the evening because it was my senior prom."

"I had butterflies in my stomach," stated junior Kelly Krause.

After the Grande Marche almost every couple had their picture taken in front of the mural. After all of the pictures were taken, the couples danced to the theme sone, "Time For Me To Fly" by REO Speedwagon performed by the band. Junior Tammy Vosbeek said she thought the band was "really good."

"I thought prom went really well. I had a better time than I had last year," commented senior Paul Ballman.

Junior Class Advisor Mrs. Cindy Kortuem said that tereh were no problems and the majority of people acted like "ladies and gentlemen."

After all was said and done, the 1981 prom was determined a success.

1. Juniors Michael Klein and Brian Holmes pose for pictures with their dates.
2. An anonymous couple slow dance in front of the mural.
3. "Holdout" rocks n' rolls the couples.
4. Some of the couples dance to the music.
5. Ed Sexe and Lana Richter help tear down the gym.
6. Jackie McCabe found something funny.
7. The participants rest during a break.

Graduates Advised by Boschwitz

Boys' and Girls' State Representatives Edward Sexe and Debbra Quick led the 34 seniors, nine of which were honor graduates, into the auditorium Sunday, May 24, to participate in the Baccalaureate Services. Reverend Jonathan Grice gave the invocation and benediction, and talked about being a "we" type of person, instead of a "me" person in his message to the graduates. Reverend Grice also tied commercials that related to situations similar to that of a young person starting out in the world into his speech.

Members of the senior class performed "Movin' On." Other musical selections included "The Lord's Prayer," sung by Michelle Fahning and Michele Koppelman, and "Friends of Eternity," a solo composed, played, and sung by Brenda Derner.

Thursday, May 28, the seniors were proceeded into the gym by the Boys' and Girls' Staters. United States Senator Rudy Boschwitz was the guest speaker. His speech described four ways to achieve success: do not worry if you are undecided about your future; be planful; believe in yourself; and be a positive person.

The Honors Address was delivered by Michelle Fahning. Her topic of speech was accepting the responsibility that accompanies freedom as a citizen of the United States.

The CHS band played the traitional "Ceremony at Margate," for the processional and recessional. Seniors who were in band joined the group and played "Rhythm of the Winds."

Superintendent Delmar Klundt presented the Androli Award to Michael Krenik, for his outstanding achievements throughout his high school years.

Michelle Fahning received a new award, the Athena Award, which goes to the senior girl who excells in the areas of citizenship, scholarship, attendence, and athletics.

The class chose maroon and white as their colors. The maroon caps and gowns were accompanied by maroon and white tassels, which disappointed the seniors, because they did not match as well as expected. The white rose was the class flower.

1. Paul looks in wonderment as the Senator straightens his tie.
2. Mike proudly accepts the Androli Award.
3. Jackie and Carolynn enjoy posing with a celebrity.
4. Michele is still serious, even after receiving her diploma.
5. Reverend Grice leads the graduates in prayer.
6. Athena Award winner Michelle displays her trophy.
7. The graduating class of 1981.
8. The seniors concentrate on walking right, while the guests have other concerns.
9. Advisor Mrs. Geraldine Davis gladly accepts her appreciation gift from the seniors.

One Act: Never A Dull Time

"Murder Well Rehearsed" was highlighted by many unusual events occuring in rehearsal.

The plot of the story found the high school play cast of Carver High discovering their high school principal dead on the rehearsal stage. They proceeded to narrow the suspects finally down to the school janitor, Frank.

Richard Rohlfing remembered that he was allergic to cats, but only after he lay on Pat Corrow's cat-hair littered couch, which brought quite a reaction. Pat Corrow successfully destroyed props and stage equipment on only one afternoon, while Pat Johnson mustered all of his strength to pull Mike Krenik across the floor and out the door in total panic. Several worried faculty members hurried to third floor as Lori Thom practiced her hall shattering screams for the play.

1. "Come on Mike, cut it out!"
2. Richard remains calm while Brenda struggles with her lines.
3. Play director Miss Karla Richardson and student director Lisa Ponwith discuss the play.

-----WITH BEST WISHES FROM-----

KOPPELMAN FARMS INC.

After meeting deadlines and getting the yearbook to press, we, and the rest of the Journalism II and III staffs,would like to thank those people who made Expectations 1981 possible.

We would like to thank our photographers, developers, junior editors, and sales people for all their help, and area businesses who helped to finance this yearbook. We would also like to thank Ann Freeburg for the superior artwork she did.

A special thanks goes to John Kline, our professional photographer, and John Smith, our yearbook representative from Josten's American Yearbook Company.

We would, with the rest of the staffs, like to sincerely thank our advisor, Ms. Karla Richardson for all her support and advice. She will be missed by the staffs next year.

We hope that Expectations 1981 brings fond memories back to you in the future. We tried as hard as possible to gather all the faces and fun times at CHS.

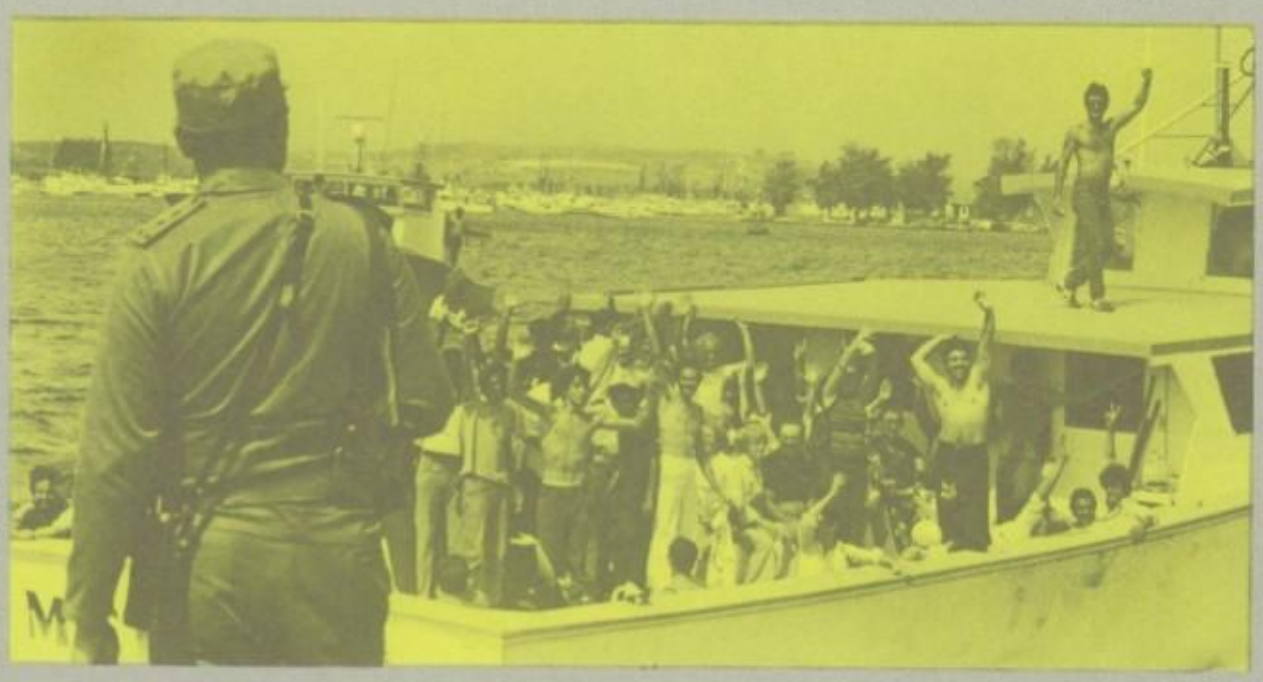
CURRENT EVENTS

MOUNT ST. HELENS - With a blast comparable to the largest H-Bomb ever tested, Mount St. Helens erupted on May 18. Despite all the warnings, 32 people died and a paralyzing blanket of gray soot dropped over cities, farms and highways as far east as Montana.



Wide World Photos

REFUGEES FLOOD FLORIDA - In a little more than two months, 110,000 Cubans descended upon the United States. The sudden influx forced Florida's governor to declare a state of emergency. Cuban President Fidel Castro claimed it was to teach the U.S. a lesson for welcoming Cuban hijackers as heroes.

THIRD CANDIDATE - Although John Anderson won only a small percentage of the popular vote in the presidential election, he stressed that his campaign was not wasted, "We have put the major parties on notice that they can never again come up with the kind of choices they have this year."

POLISH UNREST - Poland's striking workers brought down the government and dangerously provoked the Soviet Union.

TELEVISION STRIKE - Over 1,200 actors went on strike demanding compensation for videocassettes and cable TV. The long-winded strike lasted several months, delaying the new fall programs.

HOCKEY VICTORY - For the first time in 20 years, the American hockey team won the hockey gold medal, defeating the world champion Russian team. The American team had only been playing together for five months.

'SHOGUN' FEVER - The 12-hour television mini-series captured rare top ratings for NBC. Richard Chamberlin played the lead in the story about 17th century Japan.

BORG WINS, AGAIN - Sweden's Bjorn Borg falls to his knees after beating John McEnroe of the United States to the All England Tennis Championship for the fifth straight year at Wimbleton.

THE RELEASE OF THE HOSTAGES - A surge of relief, joy and patriotism swept the country when the hostages were released from Iran after 444 days in captivity on Jan. 20, inauguration day.

ACTOR DIES - Peter Sellers, a mastermind of disguise, played a variety of characters and was lovable in them all, from Inspector Clouseau in the "Pink Panther" films to Chauncey Gardiner in "Being There."

THE ABSCAM TRIALS - Two of seven Congressmen involved in the ABSCAM trials are shown arriving at Federal Court with their wives to deny charges that they accepted money in exchange for political favors from an FBI agent, posing as an Arab sheik.

OLYMPIC BOYCOTT - Beauty and pageantry couldn't hide America's absence from the Summer Olympic Games in Moscow. A number of countries boycotted the Games to protest the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.
